FACULTY

Jennifer Casteix, MS, CCC-SLP, is a clinical associate professor in the Department of Speech, Language, and Hearing Sciences at The University of Arizona, where she regularly lectures on the complex needs of babies in the NICU and teaches a graduate course in pediatric feeding and swallowing disorders. She has 30 years of experience working with children with complex medical, neurodevelopmental, and special health care needs in the NICU, PICU, and outpatient settings. Casteix is a faculty member of the Arizona Leadership and Education in Neurodevelopmental Disorders (ArizonaLEND) Program and just recently completed her term as president of the Arizona Speech-Language-Hearing Association. Her favorite part of her workday is teaching and mentoring graduate students as they learn to become speech-language pathologists in the university clinic and in telepractice.

Financial Disclosures:

- Salary from University of Arizona
- Financial compensation from ASHA for this presentation

Nonfinancial Disclosures:

- ASHA SIG 11 affiliate
- Immediate past president of the Arizona Speech-Language-Hearing Association