FACULTY

Mary C. Hilley, MS, CCC-SLP, has more than 35 years of experience as a certified/licensed SLP and New Jersey Public School supervisor. She initially worked as a Speech-Language Specialist at the Iowa School for the Deaf and as a Supervising Aural Rehabilitationist at Gallaudet University. Most recently, she was employed with the Gloucester County Special Services School District as an administrator, developing educational and recreational programs for the special needs population. She was responsible for hiring, supervising, and subcontracting approximately 150 related service providers per year (e.g., Teachers of the Deaf, Sign Language Interpreters, Speech-Language Specialists, Occupational Therapists, Behavior Specialists, Physical Therapists, and Audiologists) to school districts in four New Jersey counties. She also developed the district’s Early Intervention program, Social Skills training for county students with Asperger’s syndrome, respite services for students with severe disabilities, and a therapeutic recreation program for adult Gloucester County residents with special needs. In addition, Hilley is a co-author of a sign language book for audiologists and SLPs as well as a contributing author for a book on aural rehabilitation and communication therapy for culturally Deaf consumers. Hilley received her Master’s of Science degree in Speech-Language Pathology from Syracuse University and her Bachelor of Science degree in Communication Disorders from Bloomsburg University.

Financial Disclosures
- Financial compensation from ASHA for this presentation

Nonfinancial Disclosures
- None

Mary Ann Kinsella-Meier, AuD, is currently a consultant for the Laurent Clerc National Deaf Education Center at Gallaudet University. Previously, she worked as a project manager for the Monitoring, Evaluation, & Research team at the Clerc Center. Two of the major projects she managed were: Setting Language in Motion: Family Supports and Early Intervention for Babies Who are Deaf or Hard of Hearing, and Students with Cochlear Implants: Guidelines for Educational Program Planning. She is also currently adjunct faculty at Towson University in the Deaf Studies program. Before going to the Clerc Center, she coordinated the expansion of educational services to students with cochlear implants at the Maryland School for the Deaf. She is also a co-author of a book on sign language for audiologists and speech-language specialists and is a contributing author for a book on aural rehabilitation and communication therapy for culturally Deaf consumers. Kinsella-Meier received her Clinical Doctorate in Audiology from the University of Florida, her Master’s in Audiology from Gallaudet University, and her BA in Hearing and Speech Sciences from the University of Maryland.

Financial Disclosures
- Financial compensation from ASHA for this presentation

Nonfinancial Disclosures
- None