Help Young Adults With Language and Emotion Regulation Deficits Achieve Better Quality-of-Life Outcomes

FACULTY

Phyllis R. Scott, MA, CCC-SLP, is an ASHA certified speech-language pathologist who currently serves as a member of the IDEA Monitoring Team for the Louisiana Department of Education. She is a former member of the ASHA School Finance Committee and of the ASHA Schools Issues Ad Hoc Committee/Advisory Board. In addition to ASHA certification, Phyllis has a master's degree in philosophy from Walden University, where she is currently completing a doctoral program in social psychology. Her doctoral research project is focused on the SLP’s role in teaching emotion regulation skills to improve college/career readiness and employability for students with mild-to-moderate disabilities. Phyllis is also the owner of Thrival Communication Plus, LLC, a business focused on providing speech-language therapy, communication improvement, and emotional intelligence training to improve the quality of life outcomes for individuals in vulnerable populations.

Financial Disclosures:

- Financial compensation from ASHA for this presentation

Nonfinancial Disclosures:

- Topic of dissertation for completion of a PhD in social psychology at Walden University