FACULTY

Timothy P. Kowalski, MA, CCC-SLP, is internationally known for his work with clients with autism spectrum disorder, particularly Asperger syndrome. His Orlando practice has seen clients from Europe, South America, and the U.S. He regularly consults for schools on best practices for students identified or suspected of having Asperger syndrome and provides school-wide district in-services. He is a guest lecturer at universities and colleges and is also a consultant for forensic cases involving Asperger syndrome. He is a graduate of Case Western Reserve University (MA) in Cleveland and Southern Connecticut State College (BA) in New Haven. He is the author of six books on Asperger syndrome and is the recipient of the “2010 Clinician of the Year Award” given by the Florida Association of Speech-Language Pathologists and Audiologists (FLASHA) and the 2011 FLASHA nominee for the ASHA Louis M. DiCarlo Award for Recent Clinical Achievement. He also holds the TEAMS 2000 Speech-Language Pathologist of the Year award for his work with autism in the four-county greater Orlando metropolitan area and has served on the board of directors for the Greater Orlando chapter of the Autism Society of America. He regularly presents on a wide variety of issues related to Asperger syndrome at national and international seminars.
