

FACULTY

Tatyana Elleseff, MA, CCC-SLP, is a bilingual speech-language pathologist who specializes in working with multicultural, internationally and domestically adopted, as well as at-risk children with complex communication disorders in hospital, school, and private practice settings. She has been published in several magazines including Adoption Today, Adoption Advocate, Advance for Speech-Language Pathologists as well as ASHA's Perspectives on School-Based and Global Issues. She has also presented for a number of medical, academic, and nonprofit organizations as well as speech-language-hearing associations, including Speechpathology.com; American Academy of Pediatrics: Council on Foster Care, Adoption and Kinship; New Jersey Taskforce on Child Abuse and Neglect; New Jersey, Long Island, Pennsylvania, Mississippi, Wayne County, and Illinois Speech-Language-Hearing Associations; New York City Department of Education; Greenwich Public Schools; Butler County Educational Service Center; Los Angeles Unified School District; Speech-Language & Audiology Canada North American Council on Adoptable Children (NACAC); and ASHA.

Financial Disclosures:

- Founder/executive director of Smart Speech Therapy LLC, through which she draws a salary, publishes articles, presents workshops, and sells a variety of speech-language educational materials; select Smart Speech Therapy LLC materials may be briefly mentioned in this presentation
- Financial compensation from ASHA for this presentation

Nonfinancial Disclosures:

- No nonfinancial relationships to the content of this presentation