

FACULTY

---

Deb Culbertson, PhD, CCC-A, is a Clinical Professor of Audiology at East Carolina University. She has more than 30 years of experience in offering auditory rehabilitation services, including communication strategies training, assistive listening devices (ALDs, including hearing aids and cochlear implants), perceptual training, and support to persons with hearing loss. Through her teaching and clinical supervision, Culbertson has sought to emphasize all four areas of hearing care and the need to refer to speech-language pathologists to support patient hearing care needs.

Financial Disclosures

- Professor of Audiology at East Carolina University
- Complimentary ASHA Learning Pass subscription from ASHA for this presentation

Nonfinancial Disclosures

- ASHA member
- ASHA SIG 7 affiliate

Rachel Glade, PhD, CCC-SLP, LSLs Cert. AVT, is a speech-language pathologist who received a Master of Science degree from the University of Arkansas for Medical Sciences and a Bachelor of Science degree from the University of Arkansas at Little Rock. She completed her doctoral degree at the University of Arkansas with an emphasis in Rehabilitation, Research, and Education. She is also a Listening and Spoken Language Specialist, Certified Auditory-Verbal Therapist. She has published work in peer-reviewed journals as well as a textbook. She enjoys presenting research and trainings at local, state, national, and international events. Glade is a Clinical Assistant Professor at the University of Arkansas where she is currently the Program Director and Interim Clinical Education Coordinator. She is a member of ASHA, the Arkansas Speech-Language-Hearing Association (ArkSHA), the Alexander Graham Bell Association for the Deaf and Hard of Hearing (AG Bell), the Global Foundation for Hearing Loss, and the National Council for Rehabilitation Education (NCRE). She is a board member of Arkansas Hands and Voices. She is also a State Champion for the American Cochlear Implant Alliance. In 2018, Glade was elected President-Elect of ArkSHA.

Financial Disclosures

- Complimentary ASHA Learning Pass subscription from ASHA for this presentation

- Salary from the University of Arkansas

Nonfinancial Disclosures

- ASHA SIGs 7, 9, and 10 affiliate
- Member of ASHA, AG Bell, Global Foundation for Hearing Loss , and NCRE
- Board member of Arkansas Hands & Voices

Christy Ray, PhD, CCC-SLP, is an Assistant Professor and speech-language pathologist in the Department of Otolaryngology-Head and Neck Surgery at The Ohio State University. She currently engages in clinical practice and research, with a particular interest in optimizing outcomes of adults with cochlear implants.

Financial Disclosures

- Complimentary ASHA Learning Pass subscription from ASHA for this presentation
- Paid consultant to Cochlear Americas and Advanced Bionics

Nonfinancial Disclosures

- ASHA member
- ASHA SIG 7 affiliate and coordinating committee at-large member

Elizabeth Rosenzweig, PhD, CCC-SLP, LSLS Cert. AVT, is an Assistant Professor and Chair of the Department of Speech-Language Pathology and Audiology at Yeshiva University's Stern College for Women. In her private practice, she serves children with hearing loss and their families around the world via teletherapy and mentors future Listening and Spoken Language Specialists. Her research interests include trauma-informed care, personnel preparation, and auditory verbal outcomes.

Financial Disclosures

- Complimentary ASHA Learning Pass subscription from ASHA for this presentation
- Employee of Yeshiva University
- In private practice at www.AuditoryVerbalTherapy.net

Nonfinancial Disclosures

- ASHA member
- AG Bell Academy for Listening and Spoken Language Board of Directors
- American Cochlear Implant Alliance NY State Chapter Champion

Erin Stefancin, MA, CCC-SLP, is currently a speech-language pathologist at Nationwide Children's Hospital and The Ohio State University, working with pediatric and adult CI patient populations. Stefancin received her undergraduate and graduate degrees from The Ohio State University. Stefancin's areas of clinical interest include TBI, aphasia, cognition, aural rehabilitation, and Auditory Verbal Therapy.

Financial Disclosures

- Complimentary ASHA Learning Pass subscription from ASHA for this presentation
- Employee of Nationwide Children's Hospital and The Ohio State University

Nonfinancial Disclosures

- None