

FACULTY

Michael Blackburn, AuD, received his AuD from Northwestern University in Evanston, Illinois. He joined Sonova as the Senior eSolutions manager in March 2020. He is responsible for Sonova's portfolio of apps and digital solutions within the U.S. (including Phonak). Prior to joining Sonova, he was a clinical audiologist responsible for designing and managing a successful teleaudiology program at a Department of Veterans Affairs Medical Center in Minnesota.

Financial Disclosures

- Employed by Sonova USA, whose largest brand, Phonak, is mentioned in this presentation
- Complimentary ASHA Learning Pass subscription from ASHA for this presentation

Nonfinancial Disclosures

- Member of the American Academy of Audiology Resume Review Subcommittee
- Board of the Illinois Academy of Audiology

Paul Kreimer, MA, CCC-A, is a Clinical Training Manager based in Indianapolis, Indiana. He has been with Phonak since 2009, starting as a Clinical Trainer. His primary responsibility is coaching his team to assist fitters in using Phonak hearing aid technology to meet even the most challenging listening needs of their clients. Kreimer received his MA in Audiology from Indiana University in 1998 and BS in Audiology and Speech Sciences from Purdue University in 1996. His previous work experience includes diagnostic audiological evaluations, vestibular testing, and hearing aid dispensing to pediatric and geriatric populations in various medical and private practice settings.

Financial Disclosures

- Employed by Phonak
- Complimentary ASHA Learning Pass subscription from ASHA for this presentation

Nonfinancial Disclosures

- ASHA member
- American Academy of Audiology (AAA) member