FACULTY

Lesley E. Mayne, PhD, CCC-SLP, is an assistant professor in the Communication Sciences and Disorders program at California Baptist University in Riverside, Calif. She has 18 years of experience working in schools and private clinics prior to her faculty role teaching at the graduate and undergraduate levels. She is the author of Let’s Talk Social Skills, 1st ed. (2008) and 2nd ed. (2019) and co-author with Dr. Sharon Rogers of Augmentative and Assistive Communication: A Protocol and Intervention for Children with Complex Communication Profiles (in press, 2020). Mayne’s specialty is augmentative and assistive communication (AAC), promoting participation and communication for children with complex communication profiles.

Financial Disclosures
- Employee of California Baptist University
- Author royalties from SpeechMark-Routledge-Taylor & Francis for 1st and 2nd edition publications of Let’s Talk Social Skills
- Author royalties anticipated from SpeechMark-Routledge-Taylor & Francis for Augmentative and Assistive Communication: A Protocol and Intervention for Children with Complex Communication Profiles
- Financial compensation from ASHA for this presentation

Nonfinancial Disclosures
- Member of ASHA
- Member of the California Speech-Language-Hearing Association
- Member of the Delta Kappa Gamma International Honor Society for Women in Education
- Member of the International Society in AAC