

FACULTY

Sarah Sydlowski, AuD, PhD, MBA, completed her clinical doctorate at the University of Louisville, her externship at Mayo Clinic Arizona, and her PhD at Gallaudet University. Most recently, she completed her executive MBA at the Weatherhead School of Management at Case Western Reserve University, where she was the recipient of the EMBA Leadership Award. Sydlowski is Audiology Director of the Hearing Implant Program at the Cleveland Clinic, where her clinical and research interests focus on implantable hearing devices, optimization of practice efficiency, and development of innovative clinical delivery models. Sydlowski is Board Certified in Audiology, with Specialty Certification in Cochlear Implants. She has earned the Cleveland Clinic Distinguished Educator Certificate and is adjunct faculty at the University of Akron, where she teaches the graduate Implantable Technologies course. Sydlowski has been active in professional organizations, serving on the American Academy of Audiology Board of Directors from 2015–2018 and recently elected as President-Elect. She has served as President of the Ohio Academy of Audiology (2017) and as a Trustee of the AAA Foundation (2019). She recently served on a task force for the American Cochlear Implant Alliance related to cochlear implant candidacy and is also Co-Chair of the ACI Program Committee.

Financial Disclosures

- Employee of Cleveland Clinic and University of Akron
- Financial compensation from ASHA for this presentation

Nonfinancial Disclosures

- No nonfinancial relationships relevant to this presentation