DISCLOSURES

Financial Disclosures
Swathi Kiran reports no financial relationships to the content of the article.

Nonfinancial Disclosures
Swathi Kiran reports no nonfinancial relationships to the content of the article.

A Taxonomy of Brain-Behavior Relationships After Stroke, by Peter E. Turkeltaub, published in Journal of Speech, Language, and Hearing Research

Financial Disclosures
Peter E. Turkeltaub reports no financial relationships to the content of the article.

Nonfinancial Disclosures
Peter E. Turkeltaub reports no nonfinancial relationships to the content of the article.

Financial Disclosures
Stephen M. Wilson is an employee of Vanderbilt University Medical Center, receives grant support from NIDCD, received honorarium from ASHA, and received complimentary registration to the 2018 ASHA Convention. Melodie Yen is an employee of UCLA and received funding from NSF. Sarah M. Schneck receives a graduate student stipend funded by NIH. Andrew T. Demarco reports no financial relationships to the content of the article. Jillian M. Lucanie is an employee of Vanderbilt University Medical Center. Dana K. Eriksson reports no financial

Nonfinancial Disclosures
Neural Underpinnings of Aphasia Recovery

Neurocognitive Recovery of Sentence Processing in Aphasia, by Cynthia K. Thompson, published in Journal of Speech, Language, and Hearing Research

Financial Disclosures
Cynthia K. Thompson reports no financial relationships to the content of the article.

Nonfinancial Disclosures
Cynthia K. Thompson reports no nonfinancial relationships to the content of the article.

Financial Disclosures
Erin L. Meier is a postdoctoral research fellow at Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine, paid through an NIH/NIDCD grant. When the research included in the article was conducted, Meier was a doctoral student at Boston University, receiving a stipend either through a departmental fellowship or through NIH/NIDCD grant funds. Meier was the recipient of a Ruth L. Kirschstein National Research Service Award (NRSA) F31 grant, NIDCD Academy of Aphasia Young Investigator Travel Fellowship, ASHFoundation New Century Scholars Doctoral Scholarship, NIDCD Research Symposium in Clinical Aphasiology Student Fellowship, and ASHA Student Research Travel Award. Meier was also an ASHA "Lessons for Success" fellow. Jeffrey P. Johnson is a Research Speech-Language Pathologist at the VA Pittsburgh Healthcare System, funded through a VA Career Development Award. Johnson was a postdoctoral fellow in the VA Pittsburgh Geriatric Research, Education, and Clinical Center, funded through the VA’s Office of Academic Affiliations, and a doctoral student at Boston University, receiving a stipend paid through departmental funds and an NIH/NIDCD grant. Johnson received an honorarium to present research to the Audiology and Speech Pathology Program at the VA Pittsburgh Healthcare System and received the NIDCD Research Symposium in Clinical Aphasiology Student Fellowship. Johnson was selected as an ASHA “Lessons for Success” fellow and received a New Century Scholars Doctoral Scholarship from the ASHFoundation. Swathi Kiran reports no financial relationships to the content of the article.

Nonfinancial Disclosures
Erin L. Meier is a member of ASHA, Academy of Aphasia, Society for the Neurobiology of Language, Organization for Human Brain Mapping, and AphasiaAccess. Swathi Kiran and Jeffrey P. Johnson report no nonfinancial relationships to the content of the article.