A Learning Exercise in Pediatric Hearing: Dichotic Listening, Literacy Screener for Deaf and Hard of Hearing Children, and Fathers’ Linguistic Input (SIG 9)

DISCLOSURES

The Utility of the Dynamic Indicators of Basic Early Literacy Skills as a Literacy Screener for Children Who Are Deaf or Hard of Hearing
Diana Burke
Therapy Services, Children’s Hospital of the King’s Daughters
Chesapeake, VA

Ellie Cooper
Department of Communication Sciences and Disorders, University of South Carolina
Columbia, SC

Krystal L. Werfel
Center for Childhood Deafness, Language, and Learning Boys Town National Research Hospital
Omaha, NE

Disclosures
Financial: Diana Burke, Ellie Cooper, and Krystal L. Werfel have reported no financial relationships to the content of this article.
Nonfinancial: Diana Burke, Ellie Cooper, and Krystal L. Werfel have reported no nonfinancial relationships to the content of this article.

The Influence of Language Background on Dichotic Listening in Primary School Children
K. Jonas Brännström
Logopedics, Phoniatrics and Audiology, Department of Clinical Sciences in Lund, Lund University
Lund, Sweden

Mary Rudner
Linnaeus Centre HEAD, Department of Behavioural Sciences and Learning, Linköping University
Linköping, Sweden

Johanna Carlie
Logopedics, Phoniatrics and Audiology, Department of Clinical Sciences in Lund, Lund University
Lund, Sweden

Ketty Andersson
Logopedics, Phoniatrics and Audiology, Department of Clinical Sciences in Lund, Lund University
Lund, Sweden

Roger Johansson
Department of Psychology, Lund University
Lund, Sweden

Agneta Gulz

ASHA Self-Study WEBS0920912
A Learning Exercise in Pediatric Hearing: Dichotic Listening, Literacy Screener for Deaf and Hard of Hearing Children, and Fathers’ Linguistic Input (SIG 9)

Division of Cognitive Science, Lund University
Lund, Sweden

Birgitta Sahlén
Logopedics, Phoniatrics and Audiology, Department of Clinical Sciences in Lund, Lund University
Lund, Sweden

Disclosures
Financial: K. Jonas Brännström, Mary Rudner, Johanna Carlie, Ketty Andersson, Roger Johansson, Agneta Gulz, and Birgitta Sahlén have reported no financial relationships to the content of this article.
Nonfinancial: K. Jonas Brännström, Mary Rudner, Johanna Carlie, Ketty Andersson, Roger Johansson, Agneta Gulz, and Birgitta Sahlén have reported no nonfinancial relationships to the content of this article.

The Linguistic Input of Fathers of Children Who Are Deaf or Hard of Hearing
Aleah S. Brock
Department of Counseling, Higher Education, and Speech-Language Pathology, University of West Georgia
Carrollton, GA

Claire E. Hampton
Department of Communication Sciences and Special Education, University of Georgia
Athens, GA

Disclosures
Financial: Aleah S. Brock and Claire E. Hampton have reported no financial relationships to the content of this article.
Nonfinancial: Aleah S. Brock and Claire E. Hampton have reported no nonfinancial relationships to the content of this article.