DISCLOSURES

The Amyotrophic Lateral Sclerosis Caregiver Experience During the Pandemic: A Preliminary Qualitative Exploration and Reflection of Interview Data
Karin E. Thomas
Department of Speech Language Pathology, Saint Mary’s College
Notre Dame, IN

Kathryn Lyndes
Department of Social Work and Gerontology, Saint Mary’s College
Notre Dame, IN

Katie Jackson
Department of Speech Language Pathology, Saint Mary’s College
Notre Dame, IN

Disclosures
Financial: Karin E. Thomas, Kathryn Lyndes, and Katie Jackson have reported no relevant financial interests to disclose.
Nonfinancial: Karin E. Thomas, Kathryn Lyndes, and Katie Jackson have reported no relevant nonfinancial interests to disclose.

The Impact of COVID-19 on Clinical Practice in Medically Based Settings: Speech-Language Pathologists’ Perspectives
Amanda Stead
School of Communication Sciences and Disorders, Pacific University
Forest Grove, OR

Monica Vinson
Mason General Hospital
Shelton, WA

Paul Michael
School of Graduate Psychology, Pacific University
Forest Grove, OR

Dane Frank
School of Communication Sciences and Disorders, Pacific University
Forest Grove, OR

Disclosures
Financial: Amanda Stead received a salary for full-time employment as an associate professor in the School of Communication Sciences and Disorders, Pacific University (9 years). Monica Vinson received a salary for full-time employment as a medical speech-language pathologist at Mason General Hospital. Paul Michael received a salary for full-time employment as a professor in the School of Graduate Psychology, Pacific University. Dane Frank receives a stipend as a graduate assistant of Amanda Stead.
Nonfinancial: Amanda Stead is a member of ASHA and ASHA’s SIG 15 Gerontology. Monica Vinson is a member of ASHA and ASHA’s SIG 2 Neurogenic Communication Disorders and SIG 15 Gerontology. Paul Michael has reported no nonfinancial interests. to disclose. Dane Frank is a graduate student in the Speech-Pathology Program at Pacific University.

Loneliness and Social Isolation in Older Adults: The Effects of a Pandemic

Amber Heape
PruittHealth Therapy Services
Norcross, GA

Disclosures

Financial: Amber Heape is a full-time clinical specialist for PruittHealth Therapy Services, for which she receives a salary. No compensation was received for scholarly activity.
Nonfinancial: Amber Heape is the State Advocate for Medicare Policy (StAMP) representative for South Carolina, which is a volunteer role.

Enhancing SLP Students’ Perceptions of Older Persons and Collaborative Practice Through Geriatric Interprofessional Teamwork

Jennifer B. Watson
Davies School of Communication Sciences and Disorders, Texas Christian University
Fort Worth, TX

Teresa Drulia
Davies School of Communication Sciences and Disorders, Texas Christian University
Fort Worth, TX

Laurel Lynch
Davies School of Communication Sciences and Disorders, Texas Christian University
Fort Worth, TX

Disclosures

Financial: Jennifer B. Watson, Teresa Drulia, and Laurel Lynch have reported no relevant financial interests to disclose.
Nonfinancial: Jennifer B. Watson, Teresa Drulia, and Laurel Lynch have reported no relevant nonfinancial interests to disclose.